

1ª Conferência de Tradução Portuguesa
1st Portuguese Translation Conference

Integrated within contrapor2006 – 1st Portuguese Translation Conference – the Training Translators: For Who and For What? round table will provide a great opportunity to hear about translation training from the people who actually do it worldwide.

Prof. Abdul Sahib Mehdi Ali

Department of English Language & Literature
University of Sharjah, United Arab Emirates

Prof. Amir Mahdavi-Zafarghandi

Department of English Language
Faculty of Letters and Humanities, Guilan University, Iran

Prof. Josélia Neves (Moderator)

Departamento de Ciências da Linguagem
ESTG – Instituto Politécnico de Leiria, Portugal

Prof. Teresa Alegre

Departamento e Línguas e Culturas
Universidade de Aveiro, Portugal

Prof. Tinka Reichmann

Translation Studies Department: Romance Languages
Saarland University, Germany

Training Translators: For Whom and For What?

Is there a need for translator training in the land where common belief is that...

*Translators need no initial education in translation Translator training cannot be carried out by universities Translators “are”, they cannot be made to be Translators should only translate into their mother tongue
Translating is a solitary job
Translation is an art, not a craft*

A round table with the views and insights of translation teachers on the subject of their work